Policy & Procedures

Title: Electronic Learning Revenue Sharing

Effective Date: June 20, 2005

Cancellation:
Division: Academic/Educational Technology

Policy Statement

The following policy is in reference to the revenue sharing guidelines for courses and or programs delivered in an electronic format. The focus of education delivered through electronic means is to serve student needs for courses and or programs in a cost effective manner, pay reasonable cost of instruction, delivery, and reception, and to allow for collaborative arrangements unique to the campuses' needs.

Terms of Policy

1. The Originating Site (The site from which the course(s)/program(s) is/are delivered), will pay to the Receiving Site (The site(s) to which the course(s)/program(s) is/are delivered), 1/3 of the Originating Site's tuition when the course(s)/program(s) is/are transmitted for the sole or primary benefit of the originating institution(s).
2. The Receive Site costs, such as proctor and facility costs, line charges, and supplies/copy costs, will be paid by the receiving institution.
3. Exceptions to the above revenue sharing policy can be granted by mutual consent of the participating institutions. All agreements between and among institutions must be clearly defined, in writing and signed by the Chief Academic Officer of each participating institution.
